

MC SHIN NOTICE:

- McShin is for those who want recovery; it is for those who want our experience.
- McShin is a community-based Peer Recovery Support Organization.
- McShin is a recovery resource center with links to many pathways of recovery, including clinical substance abuse services and medical detox as well as co-occurring disorders.
- McShin attracts individuals from many walks of life.
- McShin's recovery program fee is a financial means that helps support the foundation.
- McShin builds support networks for the recovering participant.
- McShin's Board of Directors is made up of people from different pathways of recovery.
- McShin participants are required to attend 12-step meetings seven days a week. You must attend all mandatory meetings but are encouraged to attend any of the over 400 NA/AA meetings you like when there are no mandatory meetings. McShin has no official or formal affiliation with any 12-step programs; however, we host over a dozen 12-step meeting a week.
- McShin's rules and suggestions on recovery are in place to ensure a safe and realistic approach to recovery.
- I understand that I am here of my own freewill and can leave at any time I desire. I also understand that there are no refunds of any kind.
