

MCSHIN FOUNDATION SNAPSHOT

2016 - 2017

The McShin Foundation, founded in 2004 by John Shinholser and Carol McDaid, is Virginia’s leading non-profit, full service, authentic Recovery Community Organization. McShin strives daily to deliver a message of hope to recovering addicts and alcoholics and to facilitate their journey to a healthier life.

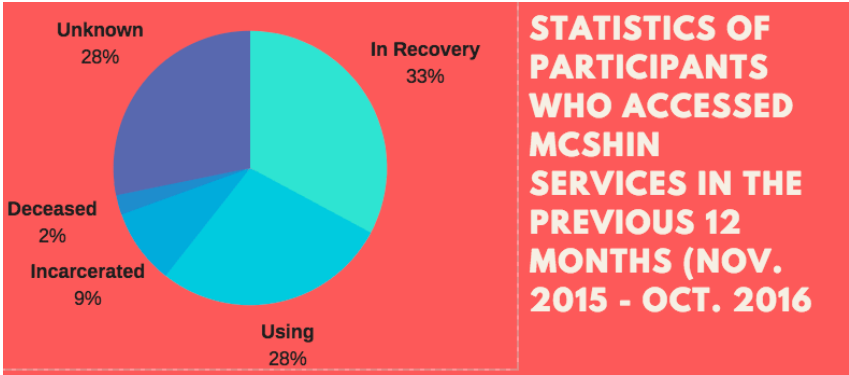

McShin currently offers 175 recovery beds for men and women in the Richmond area, the most of any recovery organization in our community. McShin’s daily provision of peer-to-peer recovery support services, coupled with random drug screens, required meetings, curfew, fellowship, meditation, and other requirements, provides residents with the opportunity to gain and maintain sobriety.

Serving nearly 500 clients last year, McShin provided 1,921 indigent bed nights for individuals desperately needing services, but lacking resources to fund it.

With a current reduction in recidivism over 40%, McShin is saving tax payers millions of dollars. This does not account for the number of individuals who are touched inside of the jails in which McShin also serves.

This is in contrast to last years’ services, which still had a significant impact on individuals, but results were slightly lower than those from 2016-2017.

Currently, there are 23 million Americans in active addiction, of which about 10 million are daily risks to public safety. Sadly, of this number, only 2.3 million are in specialty treatment. The majority of McShin’s clients are from the 10 million bracket that are deemed to be safety risks.
